King Death May Shake Up U.S. Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The violent death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. disrupted the 1968 political campaign and some politicians say it could remain a factor through the November elections.

Political leaders, expressing shock and sorrow, also stressed the assassination could spur Congress to pass a pending civil rights bill.

Others viewed the assassination as one more indication of a society too often prone to resort to violence rather than lawful means to settle deep problems. The immediate plans of the several presidential contenders were not clear but it seemed likely campaigning would be halted for a time.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., proposed a week of national mourning.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey gave news of the assassination Thursday night to 2,700 people attending the biggest Democratic fund-raising dinner of the year and the affair here was abruptly called off.

President Johnson canceled a scheduled appearance at the dinner.

King's assassination dwarfed the biggest political news of the day, which occurred hours before the slaying: Humphrey's near announcement in Pittsburgh that he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vice president told an audience of labor leaders: "If we stick together a little longer, we will be together a lot longer."

But Humphrey indicated he was withdrawing his announcement until after Johnson's Vietnam talks in Hawaii.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, considered a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination, said King's death was "a shocking act of violence that solves none of the nation's problems."

Reagan added the assassination is more evidence of what he termed a moral sickness affecting the nation.

A Democrat agreed, "We are steeped in violence," said Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. "It is the curse of the land."

Hart Calls LBJ, Very Tall Texan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election has contributed to the re-establishment of national unity and the advancement of peace prospects in Vietnam, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday.

Discussing the President's Sunday night speech which contained the announcement, Hart said: "He was a very tall Texan that night, I thought."

Hart, who last week declared his neutrality in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, said his position is unchanged.

Losses were put at 24 dead and 211 wounded.

May Withdraw
One general in the U.S. command, while not saying specifically what shifts would be made at Khe Sanh, agreed it would be a good assumption that either one of two things could happen in the near future:

—As the enemy reduces his forces around the base, a withdrawal which U.S. officers believe has started, the Marines likely will do the same, from the 6,000 men now there, perhaps down to 1,000; —Or South Vietnamese or U.S. Army troops may replace some of the Marine units. There are now 400 South Vietnamese rangers and another 400 civilian irregulars helping defend the fortress.

The officer said there are still North Vietnamese troops around Khe Sanh but "not in the force they were in a while back."

Dr. Martin Luther King

'Will Of God,' Says Widow Of Dr. King

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "I do think it's the will of God," said Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., a few hours after the death of her husband. "We always knew this could happen."

Mrs. King was in seclusion of her home Thursday night, receiving only a few close friends in her bedroom. Friends and relatives greeted the streams of mourners, who passed 15 policemen guarding the house.

The slender, attractive wife of the civil rights leader was composed but seemed dazed. She wept occasionally and accepted a few phone calls, one from President Johnson.

Watches TV
Mrs. King, who is recuperating from major surgery, reclined on her bed watching television reruns of high moments in her husband's life. She was clad in a rose-colored robe.

A half dozen women friends were in the room with her and the King's eldest daughter Yolanda, 12, in pajamas and a robe and with her hair in curlers, lay on the floor, watching.

Mrs. King, 41, was told of her husband's death by Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., while at the airport waiting to fly to his bedside in Memphis.

The mayor had driven her and her two eldest children, Yolanda and Martin Luther King III, 10, to the airport when he received word that King had died. Allen took Mrs. King into a waiting room. She emerged weeping. He then drove her back home.

LBJ Delays Trip As Negro Violence Flares In Nation

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. triggered Negro violence across the nation and caused President Johnson to delay this morning, for the second time, his departure for Hawaii.

The President called a late morning meeting of civil rights leaders in the White House in the convulsive wave of reaction following the death Thursday night of the 39-year-old King.

King died in a Memphis hospital less than an hour after he was shot in the neck as he stood on the balcony of his motel here. Police searched for a white gunman.

Johnson originally had planned to leave for Hawaii Thursday night and postponed it to early today, then postponed it again for the meeting with civil rights leader, set for 11 a. m.

At the same time, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and three other federal officials were sped here in an Air Force jet.

A Justice Department spokesman in Washington said Clark planned to meet with members of King's family and with his colleagues, including Dr. Ralph Abernathy and Dr. Andrew Young.

"He also will confer with federal, state and local law enforcement officers concerning last night's assassination," the spokesman said.

Arson And Shooting
Violence, including arson and shooting, broke out in several American cities.

In Tallahassee, Fla., police said a white youth was burned to death after a firebomb went off 10 blocks from predominantly Negro Florida A & M University, where earlier small bands of snipers fired at police. There were no arrests.

Police said a white man was stabbed to death during violence in Washington. A Negro died of stab wounds in Harlem although it was not known if his death was related to disturbances there.

Children Understand
Since 1954, when King began preaching nonviolence as a tactic in fighting segregation, she had seen him jailed numerous times, stabbed once and threatened often. She was with him in 1956 at Montgomery, Ala., with their first child, when their home was rocked by a bomb blast.

Of the effects on her four children, she once said: "I've tried to give them an understanding that their daddy is trying to help people. The two older ones understand. They take great pride and accept the dangers quite well."

"We all realize that something could happen. If it does happen, I think it will be the will of God. If it does, it would be a great way to give oneself to a great cause."

"But I pray to God nothing happens."

Looting In Harlem
Widespread looting and arson struck Harlem and Brooklyn's Bedford Stuyvesant section. More than 90 persons were arrested and scores injured. Angry crowds burned and looted stores in a Negro neighborhood just two miles north of the White House in Washington. Some 50 persons were injured and 167 arrested.

Police in Jackson, Miss., fired tear gas at groups of Negroes on the Jackson State College campus. A white-owned supermarket in a Negro section was firebombed despite a Negro leader's pleas for nonviolence.

Seek Young White
"The bullet exploded in his face," said Ben Branch. "It knocked him off his feet."

Solomon Jones, King's chauffeur, said a "man in white clothes" ran from the scene. Police in Tennessee and Arkansas were looking for a young white man, who witnesses said was dressed in white and was driving a late model white car.

Sheriff William Morris said the fatal shot was apparently fired from a "flop-house" facing the front of the motel. Police said a .30-06 Remington rifle and a suitcase were found in the doorway of a building adjacent to the rooming house.

"The back window of this flop-house faced the front of the motel in which Dr. King was staying," Sheriff Morris said. "We feel the assassin crouched in a second-floor window, sighted through some trees and fired the shot that killed Dr. King."

"He got a straight shot," Morris said. "King was standing on the second floor, leaning over a railing in front of his room. He was talking to two men on the ground. When the shot hit him, it knocked him backward. Officers heard the shot."

Find Palm Print
Memphis Police Director Frank Holloman said the suspect checked into a second floor room between 3 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. Thursday. "The shot was fired from a common bathroom which was at the end of a hall on the east side of the building," he said.

Police did not disclose the name the man signed when he checked in.

Official Mourning
Schools and universities in cities across the state dismissed classes today so students could attend memorial services for the Rev. Mr. King.

Gov. George Romney today declared an official period of mourning in Michigan, lasting through the funeral for the Rev. Mr. King. He asked that all flags on public buildings be flown at half staff.

At Flint, police used tear gas to break up a melee between white and Negro students at Northern High School. The brawl started after classes were dismissed at the city's four high schools and eight junior high schools to allow students to attend memorial services.

Rescued By Negro
A white girl's clothes were ripped off as two or three students were assaulted at Northwestern High School in Flint. Police said a Negro student rescued her from a gang and escorted her to the school.

About 200 Negro teenagers gathered in front of the State Capitol at Lansing, singing "We Shall Overcome" and carrying signs declaring "The King is Dead" and "Black is Beautiful."

In East Lansing, an estimated 1,000 Michigan State University students, whites and Negroes, jammed into a ballroom of the Student Union building for a memorial service.

Pessimism Over Peace Increases In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top advisers are split between hopeful and gloomy assessments of the prospects for successfully negotiating a peace settlement with North Vietnam.

The pessimistic mood is becoming stronger here as officials have time to recover from the rapid explosion of events since last Sunday and take stock of the underlying realities.

The greatest concern arises from the view of some experts that President Ho Chi Minh and his top officials may have miscalculated President Johnson's intention in stopping much of the bombing of North Vietnam and calling Sunday for talks on ending the war.

Believe Reds Hurt
The most optimistic assessment is based on a belief that the North Vietnamese have been badly hurt in the intensive fighting that developed at the start of their general offensive in South Vietnam at the end of January.

According to this view they took very heavy casualties without achieving their major objectives and now face a deteriorating situation.

The gloomier outlook is voiced by those in the administration who see a misjudgment by North Vietnam as understandable against the backdrop of recent events.

They note that in a short time span, Robert S. McNamara has stepped down as secretary of defense; Gen. William C. Westmoreland is about to leave as U.S. commander in Vietnam and President Johnson has announced he won't seek re-election.

Changes A Factor
"If you try to look at such things as these from Hanoi's point of view," said one expert, "it's not difficult to see how you could reach a conclusion that the whole U.S. war effort was in trouble and that we wanted out."

Walt W. Rostow, the President's special assistant for international security affairs, is reported to be among the more optimistic administration officials.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, on the other hand, is said to be among those less hopeful of any speedy results.

A third possibility cited by some officials is that the North Vietnamese leadership has simply decided that the time has come to adopt the "fight and negotiate" strategy which they have been talking about for more than a year, as American officials knew from captured Communist documents.

Weekend Conference
Peace prospects are sure to be discussed by Johnson and his top military and diplomatic officials during their weekend conference in Hawaii.

Administration aides said, however, that on the basis of present knowledge no one could go beyond listing the various possible results of the current maneuvering in trying to decide which one was most likely.

and approve the bill, ending five days of floor debate.

Nine Republicans and five Democrats voted against the measure—sponsored by Sen. Charles Zollner, R-Benton Harbor—which would forbid racial discrimination in most real estate transactions.

The bill won 22-14 Senate approval Thursday in what Gov. George Romney called "an important step in the direction of equal rights, equal opportunity and equal responsibility for all Michigan citizens."

Backers of the bill have said it is essential in the struggle to avoid a repeat of riots similar to last summer's Detroit upheaval which left 43 persons dead.

"Most Important"
Romney, who has described the bill as the most important single piece of legislation now before the Legislature, promised to work with Republican and Democratic House leaders to secure bipartisan support.

"I've always said we'd pass it if the Senate did," said House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, "and I still think so."

An open housing bill, similar to the one now pending, was defeated in the House during last fall's special legislative session.

It was unlikely that the bill, referred to the House Civil Rights Committee for study, would come to a vote until after Easter.

Five Day Debate
Senate open housing backers, led by Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, put together a combination of 11 Republican and 11 Democratic votes to beat down opposition

Relief Forces Lift Siege Of Khe Sanh

SAIGON (AP) — The siege of Khe Sanh has been lifted, a senior U.S. officer said today, although late this afternoon the spearheads of the big relief force was still nearly a mile from the 6,000 Marine defenders of the combat base in the northwest corner of Vietnam.

"We've moved out and taken territory. The basic concept of the enemy besieging Khe Sanh is over," the senior officer said.

"There's no particular value in a hookup. They're within a kilometer and a half of each other. It would be no effort to march together and to shake hands. The important thing now is that we're moving and we have other objectives."

With the 20,000-man relief force of Marines and air cavalrymen bearing down on Khe Sanh from three sides, a 500-man battalion of Marines on Thursday ventured farther outside the two square miles of fortress than any Leathernecks had since it was taken under siege 76 days ago.

Repel Red Attack
The Marine battalion occupied a hill two miles southwest of Khe Sanh for the night and then was attacked before dawn by about 400 North Vietnamese. The Leathernecks drove off the attack, reported the enemy left 93 bodies in the barbed wire around the night camp, and said Marine casualties were extremely light.

It was the heaviest fighting of the five-day-old operation to open Highway 9, the only overland supply route to Khe Sanh, and relieve the base. Most of the enemy dead were killed by dive bombers and artillery.

U.S. headquarters said no Marines were killed and only two wounded in the two-hour fight.

$6.3 Million For Lakeshore Starter

By KENNETH S. LOWE
Of Panax Newspapers

MUNISING — New responsibilities for development of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore were charted at a day-long meeting here Wednesday.

Representatives of federal, state and local agencies met at the Forest Supper Club to formulate plans for orderly establishment of the 67,312-acre "park" stretching along Lake Superior from Munising to Grand Marais.

Authorized by Congress in October 1966, the park is expected to become a major tourist attraction in the Midwest when the National Park Service acquires land within the lakeshore boundaries and develops the area to accommodate the thousands of visitors expected annually.

Wednesday's meeting was called by William C. Fucik, Lansing, technical director of the state planning program in the Governor's Office of Planning Coordination.

Those present decided that:

1. The Alger County Planning Commission shall be the local body to get the development program underway.
2. Any questions or problems in development shall be presented by the commission directly to the Office of Planning Coordination, which committed itself to act as a clearing house for the program and to channel questions and problems to the proper agencies.

Ask U.S. Funds

Offers of help in development of the lakeshore were extended by representatives of several national, state and local agencies who pledged the resources of their organizations to assist in the program.

It was revealed that the planning commission already has requested federal funds to assist in drafting an overall plan for development of the lakeshore. The commission probably will include among its first efforts contacting the Munising Township Board in hopes it will immediately undertake zoning of property abutting the park boundaries to prevent undesirable developments there. Zoning ordinances along this line already have been adopted by the City of Munising and Burt Township, the other two governmental units with property adjacent to the park boundaries.

Recommendations to give new responsibilities to the planning commission and the Office of Planning Coordination were agreed on after John (Pat) Farrell, Marquette, chairman of the five-man Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore Advisory Commission, addressed the meeting.

Lauds Zoning

He commended Burt Township and the City of Munising for adopting zoning ordinances for the park periphery and urged the various organizations involved in planning for the park to forget their individual interests and coordinate their efforts. Farrell asked full support for the planning commission and urged that it be granted "full access to the expertise we have here."

Once these things have been accomplished, he said, there will be "a chance for planning which will result in development in a meaningful way for the local and transient populations. It will allow us to maintain the natural beauty of the area and provide for its economic development."

Hugh Beattie, Munising, national lakeshore supervisor, said the land acquisition program is in its preliminary stages. He said purchases of private property within the park boundaries "should start around the end of April or the first of May."

Land Purchases

He explained that the master plan for park development was completed Tuesday and hoped it will be published some time "quite soon — perhaps in two months."

Beattie admitted, however, that "we will hardly even have a park this year," adding that the land purchase program will not give the National Park Service any significant area until 1969. The only facilities available in the park this year, he added, will be those that already exist.

When the park becomes a reality, however, it will have seven major points of development, according to Allen T. Edmunds, Lansing, assistant regional director of the National Park Service. He said these will include such facilities as a park headquarters, maintenance and employee residence, fishermen's campgrounds, parking areas, beach areas, boat launching and rental areas, lunch stops, ranger stations, etc.

Edmunds said costs of operation of the completed park will be $420,000 per year. He noted that most of this will be expended in Alger County. "A study revealed that 95 per cent of the payroll of Isle Royale National Park (also in the Upper Peninsula) was spent in Houghton and Hancock," he told the workshop.

Five Access Points

He said plans call for beginning with five access points to the lakeshore and reducing these to three eventually — Munising, Grand Marais and the Beaver Basin area.

"We estimate the development costs for the first five years to be $6,340,000, of which $3,748,000 will be spent on the scenic road between Grand Marais and Munising," Edmunds said.

"It is estimated the cost of acquiring the private lands in the shoreline zone (consisting of 27,402 acres) and some acreage in the inland zone (38,145 acres) will be $6,875,000. The Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co. has agreed to donate approximately 1,300 acres of their holdings and improvements in the Beaver Basin to the federal government after 25 years."

Others who addressed the workshop included:

Glenn C. Gregg, Lansing, deputy director for recreation, Michigan Department of Conservation (a former resident of Gwinn), who pledged his agency's complete support to development of the lakeshore. "We want to make this an outstanding vacation spot in Michigan," Gregg said.

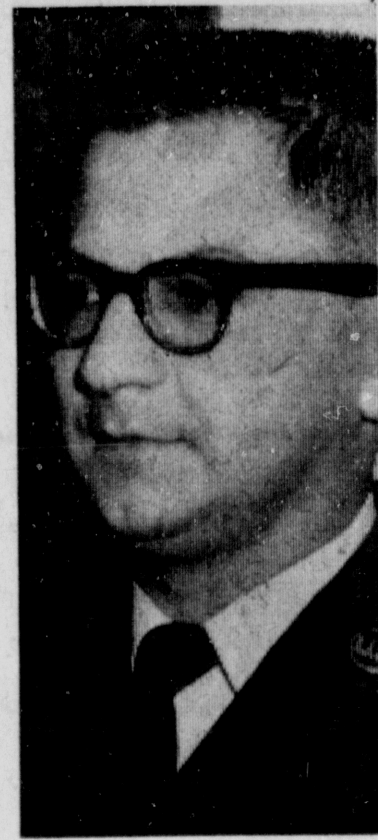

Roger Johnson, Escanaba, of the U.S. Forest Service, who pointed out that practically all visitors to Pictured Rocks will have to pass through the Hiawatha National Forest in order to reach the lakeshore area.

The national forest, Johnson said, now has 22 campgrounds with 631 family units and plans to add 11 more campgrounds with 538 camping units within the next five years. "We expect the Bay Furnace unit (in Alger County) will get the most use," he said. It has 49 camping units and 12 picnic sites.

Robert S. Boatman, Lansing, director of the planning division of the Michigan Department of State Highways, who said, "Based on a needs projection, we are concerned with adding to the east-west highway capacity in the Upper Peninsula, but we don't know what form it will take or when the highway will be built."

In answer to a question from the floor, Boatman said the state has applied for an $800,000 grant from the Upper Great Lakes Economic Development Commission for funds for access roads to Pictured Rocks.

Brunette Cited By Air Force

Vernon H. Brunette

Sgt. Vernon H. Brunette, now with the U.S. Air Force in Yokota, Japan, has received the Air Force Commendation Medal for distinguished and meritorious service while assigned to the 631st Combat Support Group in Thailand from Sept. 22, 1966 to Sept. 22, 1967.

At Don Muang Royal Thai Air Base, he demonstrated outstanding skill, ability and leadership while serving as non-commissioned officer in charge, Transportation Management Office. He was cited for his "unfiring efforts and devotion to duty" that contributed significantly in the successful mission completion of his organization's role in Southeast Asia.

He has been in the Air Force for nearly eight years, was home for a month before his assignment to Japan, where he will be stationed for the next three years. His service record includes a year of duty in Africa.

He is the son of Mrs. Lucille Brunette of 1020 S. 23rd St. and the late Henry Brunette.

Sgt. Brunette's wife, the former Shirley Cousineau of Escanaba, and their two children are with him in Japan. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cousineau of 811 N. 20th St.

Ionia Escapee, Buckley Caught

IONIA (AP) — Two prisoners who walked away from the Ionia State Reformatory were captured by State Police at South Bend, Ind., Thursday in a car reported stolen near Ionia.

Roger D. Buckley, 21, of Escanaba, and Donavan Osborne, 20, of East Tawas, were reported missing Wednesday night during a bed check at the reformatory.

State Police said the car they were driving when arrested was stolen from Mr. and Mrs. George Young of rural Ionia. The Youngs did not know their car was missing from their garage until troopers told them the escapees had been captured.

Buckley was sentenced to 1-5 years last January after he was convicted of unlawfully driving away a car while on parole from an earlier sentence of 1½-10 years for breaking and entering.

He was elected governor of Michigan District in May, 1967, and will serve through June 30, 1968.

Wells 4-H Girls Present Program At PTA Meeting

Wells Central PTA met April 2 at 7:30 in the multipurpose room of the school.

It was announced that the bike rodeo will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, April 28 at the tennis courts in Ludington Park. A safety check will also be held. This event is sponsored by the Jaycees and the Lions Club. More details will be announced later.

Girls of the Wells 4-H Club entertained the PTA members and friends with a program of singing, modeling and a talent show.

Certificates, ribbons and pins were presented to the girls by Bonnie Larson and David Van Zon, 4-H extension agent. Sharon Wicklund, Sue Broeders, Linda Thimling and Sharon O'Connell won the top awards.

Bonnie Larson was crowned queen of the club by outgoing queen, Lynn Breitman. Four talent acts were chosen to compete in the county talent show on April 20 at the Junior High School.

Harold Koski's fifth grade room won the room count and the second grade mothers served lunch, including Mrs. Richard Way, Mrs. John Lemerand, Mrs. James Archambeau, Mrs. Kenneth Rian and Mrs. Robert Orva.

Tenant Strike Leader Pays Up

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Lyles, chairman of a tenants' group staging a rent strike against three Detroit-area apartment buildings, has paid a consent judgment of $150 in back rent in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Lyles, head of United Tenants for Collective Action, agreed to the judgment during a jury trial on a charge he failed to pay the rent to Linden Management Co., operator of the three apartment buildings. The jury did not return a verdict.

The tenants' group has been demanding elimination of complaints ranging from rats and roaches to deterioration of the building structures.

Joseph D. Sasaki

Clarence L. Kennedy

The actual charter presentation will be made by Dennis B. Delany, Michigan District secretary-treasurer.

A chartered bus of about 40 Optimists from Green Bay will also be present at the banquet.

The group will be led by Terry Madsen, president of the Green Bay Club. The Green Bay Optimist Club was the sponsor of the Escanaba Club, which at present is the only Optimist Club in the Upper Peninsula.

The president of the Escanaba Optimist Club is Stewart Hill. The Club is active in boys' work and other community service projects such as co-sponsor of a bicycle safety program and in charge of Youth Day of 1968 Michigan Week.

List Officers

Officers to be installed are Stewart Hill, president; Robert Bink, secretary; Richard Derusha, treasurer.

The Escanaba City Council Thursday night adopted a proclamation in recognition of the Optimist Club, and Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe will present the proclamation to the club at the Saturday night banquet.

The proclamation recognizes the service of the club to the community, and asks that the public observe Saturday as a day to "honor the Optimist Club."

"We call upon our citizens to join in saluting the members of the newly formed Optimist Club and in expressing our grateful appreciation for their contributions to the welfare and character of other young men in this community, thus aiding in the development and leadership of tomorrow," the proclamation stated.

Sanderson Hasn't Reached Decision On New Contract

Kenneth Sanderson, political science instructor at Bay de Noc Community College whose contract status for 1968-69 was the subject of student-faculty protests at the college, said Thursday he hasn't made any decision as yet whether or not to accept the contract to be offered by the Board of Trustees.

The college's governing board announced after a four-hour meeting Wednesday that Sanderson would be offered a 1968-69 contract on a probationary basis.

Action came after a review of the case and Dr. Richard Rinehart's recommendation that Sanderson not be offered a contract because of a "lack of faith and trust" in the administration.

"I thank the board for its serious consideration of the matter," Sanderson said. "I haven't reached any decision on the contract as yet. That will come after the contract is issued."

Sanderson said his basic contention throughout was that he had a right to have a contract offered to him. He said he hopes now that things can return to "normalcy" at the college.

Ansbaugh Looks To New Image For The Legion

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Looking forward to returning Vietnam war veterans in the American Legion, State Legion Commander Miles S. Ansbaugh of Rading predicted a new image for the legion.

With 87 per cent of the veterans taking advantage of educational provisions of the GI Bill, they will be the best-educated ex-servicemen in the nation and could bring youth and zeal to the legion, he said.

Ansbaugh, in Grand Rapids for the annual past commanders dinner, also said the legion will undoubtedly include a higher percentage of Negroes.

In time of war, neutral nations have the right to use the seas, if they do not traffic in war material.

City Asks Funds For Bigger Civic Center

The Escanaba City Council has approved formal application to Housing and Urban Development for a $341,000 grant to assist in financing an enlarged Bonifas Civic Center, which if approved is anticipated to leave $43,000 in the city's Bonifas trust fund.

The addition to the project will house Community Action Agency offices and other rooms and neighborhood facilities services which the grant is designed to provide.

Information concerning the proposed expanded civic and recreation facility under construction at the waterfront site was presented to the Council Thursday night by Norman Arntzen, architect; Ray LaPorte, Community Action Agency director; and Paul Vardigan, city recreation director.

Plans Amended
The Council had anticipated federal aid on the civic center project and when it was not forthcoming last year went forward with construction of the center with Catherine Bonifas funds, as it had originally planned.

Then in February this year came announcement that $341,000 had been granted and is being held in reserve for the project which was already in construction, reported City Manager George Harvey.

To take advantage of the federal funds (a requirement is that Community Action offices and neighborhood facilities be included) the Council ordered the architect to make necessary changes in the plans. This was accomplished by planning an addition, which will be located on the west side of the center building, said Arntzen.

LaPorte told the Council that the original structure, which is about one-half completed, will cost $302,070. To complete the building will cost $157,045. The federal agency HUD will pay for three-fourths of the amount necessary to finish the building and three-fourths of the cost of the addition.

City To Control
The addition will have 9,823 square feet of floor space and will provide space for Community Action Agency offices, meeting rooms, health, diversion therapy, arts and crafts, dental clinic, lounge, library, study, day nursery and other rooms.

The Council was advised by LaPorte that in the event the Agency offices are no longer occupied, they will be available for civic uses. "We will be tenants by sufferance. If you want to you could toss us out," LaPorte told the Council.

In formal resolution the Council approved the floor plans for the expanded facility and the application for federal funds for the project.

In other business the Council adopted a change in zoning for an area of about five acres west of 23rd St. and 5th Ave. S. from Residence A to Residence C at the request of Parkway Development, represented by Hugh Harris and Ted Breitenbach. The rezoning will permit the construction of apartment dwellings.

In opening the Council session Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe commended the citizens of Escanaba for their interest in Monday's election, and noted that voting went as high as 70 per cent in one of the city's seven precincts.

Union Recognized
A Workable Program in connection with federal fund participation in senior citizens housing and other projects will be amended in relation to Housing Code, and reconsideration of the method of inspections. The Council authorized the city manager to engage a non-civil service employee as building inspector.

The Council by resolution recognized the Municipal Employees Association as the bargaining agent for city employees other than electricians, police and firemen.

Councilman Cecil Chase was chosen by the Council for appointment by Probate Judge Marie Peters as the city representative on the County Tax Allocation Commission.

The purchase of fireworks costing $960 for the Fourth of July was authorized; a proposed ordinance to provide penalties for disorderly conduct was held over to next meeting for further study; and a resolution commending retiring Councilman George Rusch "for his years of devoted service" was adopted.

Army Alerted On Disorders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said today "the Army is taking certain precautionary actions" to be ready for any serious disorders which may develop in the wake of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

So far, it said, "there have been no requests for any troop assistance from any governor."

The brief statement, given in response to an inquiry, did not go into detail about the precautionary actions being taken by the Army "in accordance with plans developed over the past months among federal, state and local authorities."

LBJ Delays Trip As Negro Violence Flares In Nation

checked in. They said they found a palm print on the rifle and it had been flown to the FBI in Washington.

King was rushed from the motel to St. Joseph Hospital where he was wheeled into the emergency room at 6:16 p.m. His head was wrapped in a towel and an oxygen mask was over his face.

The only sound came from the resuscitator which was pumping oxygen into his dying body. The stretcher disappeared behind the swinging double doors and his aides leaned against the walls and wept.

Dead At 7 P. M.
The official announcement came at 7:30 p.m. when Paul Hess, assistant hospital administrator, read this statement: "At 7 p.m. Dr. Martin Luther King expired in the emergency room of a gunshot wound in the neck."

As newsmen ran for phones, a lone Negro woman sank into a chair in the waiting room and put her head in her hands. "I didn't have to go back there to find that out," she said.

Memphis police said they gave chase to a white automobile immediately after the shooting. State police in Arkansas were later asked to look for the same car.

Two men were picked up by police in the area of the shooting but were released after questioning.

In Washington, the FBI said it had begun an investigation of the shooting at the specific request of Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

Talked Of Death
"We exerted every human effort to prevent it from happening," Holloman said. A Memphis newspaper The Commercial-Appeal, offered a $25,000 reward for the killer.

King, himself, had talked on the eve of his death about the possibility of violent harm, but said he did not fear the possibility.

"It really doesn't matter what happens now," King had told a rally here Wednesday night. "I've been to the mountaintop."

King said he was aware of the threats made on his life but did not worry about the future. "We've got some difficult days ahead, but it really doesn't matter now," King said, "because I've been to the mountaintop."

"I may not see the promised land myself," he said. "But it will come."

Dr. Reginald Hawkins, Negro candidate for governor of North Carolina, said King had told him that "nonviolence is on trial in Memphis."

Memphis Setback

It was in Memphis March 28 that King's stance of nonviolence suffered perhaps its most severe setback. A march led by King in support of the garbage strikers turned into a small riot.

It was the only time that King had lost control of one of his nonviolent demonstrations.

Both police and Negro leaders say the violence was sparked by a group of about 200 Negro youths on the fringe of the march and that the main body of 6,000 marchers proceeded peacefully.

One Negro youth was killed in the outburst of vandalism and looting. King said later he would not have come here to lead the march if he had known the violence was possible.

Another march had been planned for next Monday with as many as 10,000 participants, their ranks swelled by sympathizers from labor and civil rights organizations in New York City and other places across the country.

City officials had gained an injunction against the march, saying they feared it would bring more violence. U.S. Dist. Court Judge Bailey Brown took under advisement Thursday King's request that the injunction be dissolved.

Spurred Injunction
But King had told the Wednesday night rally the march would be held, regardless of the court's decision, declaring, "We're not going to let any injunction turn us around."

A union official said today that Monday's mass march will go on.

Young, in testifying at a court hearing on the injunction six hours before King was shot was asked what effect violence in the planned march would have on King.

"I would say that Dr. King would consider it a repudiation of his philosophy and his whole way of life," Young replied.

King came to Memphis first on March 18 to speak in support of the strikers. He drew a crowd of 10,000 to a rally, in which he termed the strike a new phase of the Negro's struggle.

The strike which began Feb. 12, took on early racial overtones because 98 per cent of the striking force are Negroes, and King called the strike a fight for "economic equality."

The strikers have asked for a written union contract, payroll deduction of union dues and higher wages.

During 1966, the United States imported a total of 22,055,000 bags of green coffee.

Martin Luther King

Martin Luther King was killed in Memphis Thursday and the shock waves rolled north to Lake Superior. It couldn't have been more meaningful to us if it had happened in Munising.

In the first uncertainties of the crime people said: "I hope it wasn't a white person that did it; that would make it even worse."

It couldn't be worse, and the thought that somehow it mattered whether the man who killed him was white or black was as mindless as the crime itself.

America is deep in a struggle of conscience over racism.

Reverend King was an apostle of non-violence in this great moral trial.

He has been martyred by forces which he helped to loose years ago in the quest for equality of citizenship for Negroes. Things got out of hand. When he went to Memphis last week to lead a march to help striking Negro garbagemen, he was suddenly caught up in violence that killed a Negro youth, injured 60 and resulted in 280 arrests. He went back this week to help and was killed.

He had dedicated his life to the cause of equality for Negroes so martyrdom was only the supreme act of a devotion which had brought him assault, many indignities, many arrests — he was jailed five times in Alabama alone — and the early satisfaction that he had accomplished a great and historic good in arousing Negroes to a peaceful demonstration of protest against injustice toward their race.

It had also brought him the troubles that America lives with today and which make it dread the summers and their core city violence more than we once dreaded the heat that brought infantile paralysis to the young.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, victor of the Montgomery, Alabama bus integration campaign and many other racist battles, lived long enough to learn that he had helped unleash the whirlwind. He would not have avoided his mission, but his last days must have been uncertain, after the gains of his earlier years of the non-violent marches and the chant of "We shall overcome."

The toughs were in increasing evidence in the Negro movement. Our friends of the leadership of the Negro community in Detroit have changed in the last few years. Most of them have been repudiated by their own people, replaced as leaders by the young militants. In their bitterness over failure of their efforts to bring the white and Negro communities closer together they seem to have lost faith in intention of the whites to tolerate a true brotherhood of all races.

Their good sense tells them that violence can only deepen the woes of their people and harden the hearts of the whites, but they despair and look on the great drift into violence as inevitable.

To the last Martin Luther King was trying to help his people. He was negotiating with the Negro militants in Memphis, trying to achieve progress in a garbage-man's strike that had grown since early February into a broader protest against the Negro ghetto.

Reverend King may be even greater in death than he was in life. Even the Negroes who had drifted away from his leadership can now use him as a symbol of injustice to Negroes. But his great lesson was not for the Negroes of America, but for its whites. He prodded our conscience and reminded us that we Americans have a great national code of honor and that we have religious faiths which prescribe a brotherhood of men and which proscribe racial hate.

We can, he sermonized in hundreds of troubled scenes, honor these commitments and make them meaningful and true, or we can dishonor them and invite the whirlwind.

He was a Nobel Peace Prize winner.

He was a great man.

To paraphrase the Battle Hymn of the Republic: His word goes marching on.

Democracy Is Way

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The other afternoon a man asked this reporter if it wasn't impossible to create a democracy in an Asian country such as South Vietnam.

He says he believes elections in South Vietnam are bound to be meaningless and government by the people impossible regardless of how sincerely the United States attempts to encourage freedom and self-rule.

This man is not alone. In the past few years more than a hundred men and women have asked me, "Are Asians capable of democracy?"

Somewhat, many Americans and Europeans believe Asians are somehow different and not suited by nature or tradition to democratic ways. There seems to be a belief that Asians are in some unexplained way radically different from Americans, Europeans and other Westerners.

A study of Asian history gives a very different picture. Particularly the detailed history of the area which is now South Vietnam is the story of men much like those who peopled Western Europe and the United States.

Before the French took over in South Vietnam, the people in the hamlets and villages had a high degree of self-rule. They selected their village and hamlet officials locally.

Though the central government of what is now South Vietnam was not democratic, that government, in the main, left the hamlets and villages to manage their own affairs, carry on their own government, solve their own problems.

For many years before the French came, the local South Vietnamese citizens — though poorly armed and not well-organized nationally — had fought so valiantly for their communities and their local institutions that the Chinese, who many times conquered what is now North Vietnam, were never able to exercise any real control over the south.

The French, themselves, found the south a continuous problem because of the independence of these villagers who ruled themselves.

The South Vietnamese did not destroy these democratic institutions in the southern villages. It was the French who finally, after much travail, destroyed them by military force. In many years of effort, the French gradually uprooted this village self-rule. The village and hamlet governments were subordinated and then taken over by French-appointed officials from the capital. That is, democracy in the villages was slowly smothered.

Romney Hopeful On Peace Feeler

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Thursday that peace feelers between the United States and North Vietnam could be the first real step to peace.

Asked if he believed President Johnson's recent statements concerning the war and his upcoming meeting with Vietnam leaders were steps toward settlement of the conflict, Romney replied:

"It could be and I hope it is."

"I think any step that can be in the direction of peace should be considered," Romney added. The governor refused comment on a question concerning Johnson's methods, saying, "I don't think this is the time to make comments that can be construed as partisan comments."

Regarding Hanoi's responses to Johnson, Romney said he believed North Vietnamese intentions was "not clear."

"You've Robbed Our Banks; Raped Our Women, Doped Our Children and Murdered Our Citizens, but Don't Go Too Far!"

Blue Cross-Insurance Duel Called Mismatch

The Escanaba Daily Press has published several letters recently critical of Blue Cross. They seem to pop up occasionally as the insurance industry expresses its unhappiness with this big element in Michigan's underwriting of hospital insurance, although the other insurance systems are related to this pioneering venture in providing a coverage-for-everyone type in prepaid hospital insurance.

Dale Nouse, assistant director, public relations division, Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield, wrote the following statement for Blue Cross in answer to a letter from Rene Lippens of Kipling, an insurance salesman, which the Press published recently.

Nouse, of Detroit, is frequently in the U. P. His son, Todd, is a freshman at Michigan Tech, Houghton, and they fish the Bond Falls Flowsage together, where his family homesteaded a farm and where his grandfather is buried.

Apparently we are engaged in a debate in your very lively letters column on the merits of Blue Cross vs. insurance.

There really is no comparison. The latest attack is versed in no less than 14 questions, to which the answer might be, "Mr. Lippens, have you stopped beating your wife?"

Michigan Blue Cross is not insurance. It's a well-accepted and highly efficient system through which we all budget a monthly amount to take care of our hospital care needs when sickness or accidents strike. The principle is not limited dollar risk, but complete service, whenever and however much is needed.

Michigan Blue Cross is non-profit. Out of every member's dollar, we keep less than four cents for all expenses. More than 96 cents goes for the hospital care for our members. We're mighty proud of that extremely low operating cost.

May I ask Mr. Lippens or any of the previous commentators to explain how much of each of their customers' dollars is kept by whatever insurance company they apparently represent? Your readers deserve the opportunity to decide who is giving them the best value for their money.

Michigan Blue Cross has 4½ million members. More than half the fine citizens of Michigan belong. We have more members than all the insurance companies together.

There must be a reason.

In the minds of these people — the ultimate judges — there apparently is little recognition of the bitter competition of which Mr. Lippens complains.

Depending on the space you wish to give, may I answer the rest of Mr. Lippens questions for your readers? What is the Blue Cross hospital payment formula? Blue Cross reimburses hospitals for the full cost of members' care, plus two per cent. Can anything be sounder or fairer than to pay for actual costs?

Does the hospital benefit from this formula? Yes, indeed. In 1967, Michigan Blue Cross paid $242 million for its members' health care and did so through an extremely efficient system that entails a service of inestimable value to hospitals.

Does Blue Cross benefit from the formula? We are assured and can, in turn, assure our members that they are getting the highest quality care for the lowest possible cost.

Why do hospitals allow its use? Because we enjoy a very unique association with Michigan hospitals, they helped us develop the formula and approved it as a financially sound and modern method of financing hospital care.

Why does Blue Cross spend huge sums on advertising? That "huge" sum (which, by the way, comes out of the four cents we need for all operating expenses) is almost insignificant. It amounts to less than six cents a member a year, or less than ½ cent a month.

Why does Blue Cross advertise? Considering how minute the cost is, perhaps Mr. Lippens would like to forget the rest of his questions about advertising.

What purpose is served by subscribers' money being used for nursing and other types of scholarships? Michigan Blue

Kelley Says Banks May Sell Credit Life Insurance

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Thursday that banks chartered by the state may be licensed to sell credit life insurance.

Some employees of state chartered banks presently are licensed to sell such credit insurance. The opinion would extend this right to the banks themselves.

The opinion said the Insurance Department "is not prohibited by statute from licensing state chartered banks as insurance agents to sell credit life insurance."

"I believe that taking applications and collecting premiums with respect to credit life insurance policies is an incidental power necessary to carry on the business of banking," the opinion said.

"These policies, however, must be issued coextensively (at the same time) with the making of the loan by the bank," the ruling added.

Such credit life insurance protects the credit of an individual in the event of death. If a husband carrying such insurance should die, as an example, a provision of the policy could provide for complete payment of the mortgage on his home to protect his widow.

The questions on the legality of such sales were raised by Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit, former chairman and a member of the House Insurance Committee.

The first bicycle ever made in the United States weighed 70 pounds and cost $313.

Cross doesn't use any subscriber money or any other money for nursing scholarships.

Why does Blue Cross need contracts with hospitals? Because we have common goals with every Blue Cross participating hospital, we also share in each of those hospitals' very strong desire to ever improve service for not only our members but for everyone in the community. Contracts help us (Blue Cross and hospitals) define clearly the goal of providing the highest quality care at the lowest possible cost.

Your good readers now might like to ask exactly the same questions of your insurance spokesmen.

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to the questions published in Mr. Lippens letter. If there are others, I'd be pleased to do anything possible, including coming to Escanaba, to answer directly any questions about Michigan Blue Cross.

LBJ Sincere, Asserts Scott

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said in Detroit Thursday that President Johnson's latest move for peace in Vietnam was made "in entire good faith."

"I think he is a casualty of the Vietnam war," Scott said. "I think that what he has done has made possible negotiations for peace. I think the posture there right now ought to be more prayer and less politics."

Scott, in Detroit to speak to a Republican fund-raising meeting, was asked if he thought Johnson could have taken the steps much earlier.

"He might have done it some time ago," Scott answered. "But I think he hoped for more successes in Vietnam first. Each side would rather negotiate from strength."

Scott said he believed the President was serious in saying he would not seek or accept nomination for re-election.

Today's column answers a problem we posed yesterday. The contract is seven no-trump. South is to make it against either a spade or a club lead.

The spade lead gives South a chance to go wrong at trick one. If he lets the spade run around to his ace, he won't be able to make the contract. Instead he must go right up with dummy's king and run off five diamond tricks. He discards the jack and two other clubs from his own hand. Then he leads a spade to his ace.

This will leave East with six cards. Five must be hearts. If the other is the king of clubs, South runs off the four top hearts and West won't be able to protect both black suits. If the other is the jack of spades, West will be able to hang on to the queen and one club, whereupon South will make the last two tricks by taking a club finesse. Remember, he was careful to hold a small club — not the jack.

Against a club lead, South rises with dummy's ace and runs off the same five diamonds and makes the same three club discards. If East discards his king of clubs and one spade, South has the same spade-club squeeze against West. East's best plan is to discard two spades and hold the king of clubs.

Now South comes to his hand with the ace of spades and cashes his four heart tricks. West will throw all his clubs and hold the queen-eight of spades as his last two cards. East will hold the good heart and the king of clubs while dummy will hold the king-nine of spades. South will take the spade finesse for the last two tricks.

If you aren't tired of this hand by now, see if you can make it by running hearts before you run diamonds. You can — except against a spade lead.

A—We would bid six clubs but we might be making a serious mistake. Either a pass or a five club bid might be better and the percentage favors this bid. We don't like four no-trump with a void suit.

Ann Landers

Send Him Bill, Then Bid Creep Good-By

Dear Ann Landers: Our nine-year-old son has been taking his father's $5 neckties to school and selling them for 20 cents apiece. The mother of Ronnie's schoolmate brought two ties over today and asked me if I recognized them. I nearly died.

My husband complained last week that some of his best ties were missing and for the life of me I could not figure out what had happened to them. Now I know. Should I tell my husband and let him handle it? (He is much more strict than I, and he might be awfully hard on the boy.) Or should I keep my husband out of it and deal with the boy in my own way? Please advise. — THE SALESMAN'S MOTHER

Dear Mother: Discipline should be the job of both parents. Don't say, "Wait until your father comes home . . . etc . . ." Simply confront the boy in his father's presence and decide together what the punishment should be.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been going steady with a very nice man for two years. We are both single and in our mid-thirties. Two months ago Jack borrowed $10 from me. He said he'd pay me back in a few days. He hasn't called me since.

The money is extremely important compared to the two years we shared. I'd be very happy to forget about the $10 and consider it a gift. Last week I telephoned Jack twice to talk things over. Both times he was very rude and seemed to be in a big hurry to get off the phone. Jack's birthday is next month, and of course Easter is coming up. We always celebrated these occasions together. Shall I mail him a card or a friendly note or perhaps a little gift? I feel that I want to send him something. What do you suggest? — SUD-DEN JOLT

Dear Jolt: Send him a bill — and forget about the creep.

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter is 18 and attractive. My husband is 53, bright, pleasant, but somewhat on the rigid side. When they began to ski together I was delighted because I saw a chance for dad and daughter to have a closer relationship. He was always a bit standoffish with her and I know she was aware of his coolness. Instead of becoming better friends as a result of the ski trips, they seem to be quarreling constantly.

The girl believes her father should open doors for her, help her with her ski shoes, pick up things she drops in public, and so on. He feels this is nonsense. According to him, the difference in their ages, as well as the filial relationship makes the manners bit null and void. In fact, he recognized that SHE should do these things for HIM.

Your opinion is wanted. — TROUBLE ON THE SLOPES

Dear Trouble: Simply because people happen to be related does not excuse them from being courteous to one another. Manners are nothing more than consideration. Your husband should treat his daughter as he would any other young woman, and this means holding the door for her, helping her with her ski shoes and so on.

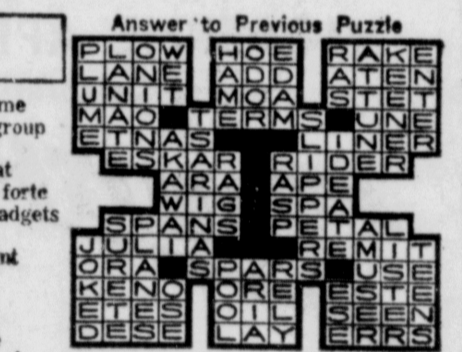

Give in or lose him . . . when a guy gives you this line, look out! For tips on how to handle the super sex salesman, check Ann Landers. Read her booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are The Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper, enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Copyright 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Rotary District Conference Will Bring 400 Here

Arrangements for one of the largest conferences of the year in Escanaba — the District Conference of Rotary International on April 26-27 — are under way with plans being completed for welcoming about 400 Rotarians and their wives.

The delegates will come from 36 Rotary Clubs in northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan to Escanaba for programs of inspiration and entertainment.

Edward E. Edick of 819 Lake Shore Drive, the governor of Rotary District 622, said the conference will bring to Escanaba men of prominence in Rotary, government, and entertainment.

One of these is an Escanaba native George H. Gaffney, who is now United States Deputy Commissioner of Narcotics, Washington, D. C., whose topic for one of the plenary sessions is "Law and Order."

Law And Order
Gaffney is a 1944 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, who after World War II resigned his commission to become an undercover agent with the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. Through his efforts — and at great personal danger — he brought to justice notorious leaders in the international narcotics ring.

A group discussion on "Law and Order" will follow, with resource persons from state, county and city law enforcement agencies participating.

Warren Kraft, Seattle, will represent Rotary International President Luther Hodges and will speak on the role of Rotary in service to club, community, and world understanding and good will.

The banquet speaker will be Edgar A. Guest Jr. of Detroit, son of the poet-philosopher whose verses won the hearts of millions. Guest will speak on the topic "On the Sunny Side of the Street," a title taken from one of his popular daily radio shows.

World Services

Opening the conference will be the presentation by Prantosh Nag of India, an instructor at Bay de Noc Community College, Escanaba of a proposed "World Community Project" which it is hoped will receive Rotary's District-wide support.

Nag has outlined to the Escanaba Rotary Club his plans and aspirations for establishing a "farmer's school" upon his return to India, and he and the local club to enlist the cooperation of Rotary in bringing the project to reality.

Edick as district governor of Rotary is coordinator of the conference, and others of the conference planning committee are:

Isadore Stein and A. W. Moberg, co-chairmen; John Romstad, secretary; Carl R. Wickman, treasurer; Ralph Kazialek, host club president; and Dr. Richard Rinehart, club president-elect.

Thomas J. Straebel is banquet chairman; Rodger Murray, men's luncheon; Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, women's luncheon; house of friendship Mrs. Lindquist and the Mesdames N. J. Theisen, Robert Haack, John Anthony, George Douglas and Percy Rosemurgy.

Fellowship dinner Dr. N. J. Theisen, Robert Haack and Dr. Rinehart; attendance, Warren Morrison; housing and registration, Art Westby; printing, Ray Richards; program, John A. Lemmer; Ralph Norton, transportation; decorations, Paul Snyder.

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. puts its Continental Mark III, a new entry in the luxury automobile class, on sale across the country today, and gives it a special send-off with a champagne party in Ford multimillion-dollar pavilion at San Antonio's HemisFair '68.

The Texas world's fair opens Saturday. Some 1,200, including Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, have been invited to the champagne party for the $6,585 automobile in Ford's rotunda-shaped pavilion. Hosts will be Henry Ford II, chairman, and Semon E. Knudsen, president, of the auto company.

Under the longest hood of any American car, the Mark III has a 460-cubic-inch, 365-horsepower engine especially built for it. The vehicle is 216.1 inches long over-all and has a 117-inch wheelbase.

Miss Holmquist Dies Thursday
Miss Elda Holmquist, 44, a former Treenary resident, died at 4 p.m. Thursday in Oakland, Calif.

She was born May 2, 1924 and was a member of the Methodist Church in Oakland and the Oakland Professional Women's Club. Miss Holmquist was employed as head pharmacist for the Lilly Pharmaceutical Laboratories in Oakland.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ruth Holmquist of Oakland, a brother, Howard of Seattle, Wash., and a cousin, Mrs. Harvey Sundin, of Isabella.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday in Oakland.

Briefly Told
There will be an immunization clinic at the Delta County Building from 2 to 4 p.m. today.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court notice to William M. Hossle, 522 2nd Ave. S., for failing to exercise due care.

Donald F. Vreeland of Iron Mountain, district secretary of the Michigan Young Men's Christian Association, will address the Escanaba Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Tuesday in the House of Lodging, the Upper Peninsula YMCA program.

Local Sued On Work Stoppage

A suit to recover $200,000 for losses allegedly caused by an illegal strike last week has been filed in Federal Court for the Western District of Michigan by the Harnischfeger Corp. against Local 632 of the United Auto Workers. Notice of the suit has been served on the local Thursday.

Company spokesmen, when asked about the action, said that it was taken because the 36-hour work stoppage was "a clear and flagrant violation" of the firm's contract with the union, which provides a method for orderly adjustment of grievances and which prohibits strikes of any kind.

Workers here left their jobs at 6 a.m. Monday, March 25 claiming that they were protesting the disciplining of a third shift employee. They returned to work about 6 a.m. the following day.

Harnischfeger Corp. representatives and the bargaining committee of the local have been working for weeks on terms of a new three year contract to replace the one which expires on April 15. The contract will be submitted to the union membership, numbering about 850 production workers, at a meeting at the Escanaba Junior High School at 11:45 p.m. Sunday for ratification.

Ice Jams Halt Ships At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — High winds and ice jams halted ships from moving along the St. Marys River into Lake Superior at Sault Ste. Marie Thursday.

A U.S. Coast Guard spokesman said the shipping channel, opened earlier this week, was clogged with ice as a result of strong winds across Lake Superior. He said the icebreaker Mackinaw and six freighters were waiting in Whitefish Bay for the winds to subside.

The spring shipping season began Monday in the Sault area with the opening of the U.S. locks at the Upper Michigan community. The single Canadian lock opened Thursday.

The lower St. Marys River, leading to Lake Huron, was reported relatively free of ice.

Stocks Decline In Early Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined irregularly, with no special selling pressure early today as the major exchanges paid tribute over their ticker tapes to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Trading was fairly active.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average was off about 2 points, and losses outnumbered gains by around 100 issues. Stocks were mixed at the opening.

Control Data and Boise Cascade lost about 2 points. Losses of a point or more were taken by Sperry Rand, Polaroid, Eastman Kodak, Xerox, Standard Oil of California and Pfizer.

United Airlines and American Airlines each rose more than a point.

Fractional losses were shown by Columbia Pictures, Ford, Chrysler, United Aircraft and Air Reduction.

After five days of advance, the market was ripe for a decline. Wall Street, brokers said, would seek an excuse for such a testing of recent lows after this week's upsurge on record volume.

Both the New York and American stock exchanges carried words of tribute to Dr. King on their tickers at the opening and announced trading would stop for one minute of silence at 11 a.m.

Classroom visitation will be held prior to the meeting. Lunch will be served by the Mesdames John Berrigan, John Chylek, Edwin Johnson and James Larson.

Radar Failure Lost One F111A

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sources say one of the two Air Force F111A fighter-bombers lost over Southeast Asia crashed because of a failure of its revolutionary terrain-hugging radar guidance.

This is the system which helps set the $6 million craft apart from other planes.

The radar-directed controls allow the pilot to sit back, hands-off, while the F111A automatically rises and dips according to the lay of the land.

The cause of the first F111A crash in late March has not been determined, but the hay-wire radar is being blamed in the loss of the second one only three days later.

Both high-powered planes had been in Thailand—the springboard for many of the air attacks on North Vietnam.

Sources said experts who interviewed the two pilots rescued after the second F111A went down got this version of the trouble:

The plane took off from its base in Thailand with the pilots manually operating the controls as usual.

Shortly after the F111A was off the ground, the crew switched on the terrain-guidance radar.

The F111A immediately began severe bucking and the pilots were forced to cut off the automatic controls.

At 6,000 feet they tried the system again. This time the vibrating became more severe. The plane began gyrating and the crew was forced to eject.

Chamber Directors Urge New Building

By BARBARA JOHNSON

Financial support for renovation of the old water tower as a new Chamber of Commerce site and an extensive Christmas lighting program was asked by Chamber President David Kelly Thursday at a special general meeting at the Surf.

The two-point action program calls for an increased annual operating budget, a revised dues schedule, and a percentage pledge of annual dues to cover the renovation cost of the old water tower.

"We cannot have an action program without first having people with personal and financial aid," Kelly said. "We must agree on a basic planning program and do things as a group that we cannot do as individuals."

Central Location
As spokesman for the Board of Directors, Kelly explained that the water tower had been selected as the most central location for a new Chamber office since U.S. 2 bypasses the downtown business section of Manistique, where the old Chamber office is located on Triangle Square.

"The Board spent 15 months investigating other sites and finally settled on the water tower as the most logical selection in terms of cost, convenience and location. In making the choice, we felt that this location would be best possible to serve visitors to the area," Kelly continued.

Renovation of the octagonal water tower has been estimated at $7,000. Financing would come from a three-year assessment at the rate of 30 per cent of the annual dues.

Kelly disclosed that the renovation would include men and women's restroom facilities, repair to the ceiling of the water tower, a parking lot, a second floor observation deck and a sign identifying the Chamber of Commerce office.

Program Detailed
The observation deck would enable visitors to view the siphon bridge phenomenon of the water level being higher than the bridge. This oddity has received nation-wide publicity.

The City of Manistique would provide the parking lot for the new building, including removal of trees and the necessary sewerage works.

Denton Moir, chairman of the retail division, detailed the proposed Christmas lighting program. "Our present lighting is not serviceable nor reliable," Moir said. "Some of it was put together by home-made assembly and has not stood the test of time."

Moir said that the Board proposes to purchase new lighting to be installed this fall with a heavy concentration of lighting in the downtown shopping area and at the major entrances to the city. The program is budgeted at $10,000, including replacement of lights during the first few years. It will involve use of 27 utility poles in the city.

The lighting program would be financed over a five-year period with emphasis on pledges from retail division members. "Lighting benefits the whole community, not just the retailer. This program should be supported by the entire Chamber. If we all share, no single individual carries a heavy burden," Moir concluded.

Budget Explained
A 1968 operating budget of $10,000 was proposed by Kelly. This represents an increase of $3,223 over the 1967 budget.

Kelly commented that the Chamber cannot do an effective job on a budget of $6,776, which was last year's figure.

"If we are to promote action, we must be willing to pay the price," he said.

Answering a question from the floor, Chamber Secretary

Carl Graves said that one third of the business colony in the Manistique area does not belong to the chamber. Each person attending was asked to make a commitment for support of the proposals outlined.

The Board will evaluate the response and plan to contact members who were unable to attend the special meeting.

Supervisors Meet Tuesday

Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Court House for their annual spring meeting. The all-day session will be for purposes of reorganizing the board and electing a chairman and vice-chairman for the coming year.

William Wedegartner, Jr., newly-elected city council delegate, will be seated.

Other business scheduled to come before the board will be submission and approval of the equalization and budget reports for 1968. A public hearing regarding continuation of the Community Action Agency structure as now functioning will be conducted by the Board at 1:30 p.m.

Few Fish Taken In Trout Opener

Ice on the Great Lakes has deteriorated to an unsafe condition. Ice on inland lakes is still relatively safe, but is deteriorating. Inlets and shoreline springs have cut ice loose along the shores of many lakes. On larger lakes there is about 4 to 6 inches of "candle" ice and 12 inches of good ice. The shallower lakes are most treacherous. Most streams are open and high especially those on the Lake Superior watershed.

Woods roads, that are open, are wet and muddy except in the sand plains. Main roads are dry and in good condition.

The road to the mouth of the Two Hearted River is free of snow, but narrow. At present it is only open by way of Pine Stump Junction. There is very little parking area at present at the mouth of the Two Hearted River.

Rainbow trout: Fishing slow. 3 known taken on April 1st at the Two Hearted River. There was very little success on the Carp and Black rivers in Mackinac County.

Coho Salmon: None reported taken.

Cisco: Excellent catches being made on Whitefish (South Manistique) Lake. Early morning.

Boating Safety Course Planned
The Schoolcraft County Sheriff's Dept. and the Manistique Community School will sponsor a course in pleasure boat safety.

Public Law 303 now requires youngsters aged 12-16 to complete a boating safety course before being allowed to operate an outboard motor boat over 6 horsepower.

Organization meeting is scheduled for Room 103 at 7 p.m. on Monday in the high school building. The course is also open to adults.

Interested citizens may pick up enrollment forms in the high school principal's office, the junior high office, and from the principals at Hermawath, Doyle, Fairview, and Gilmawath schools.

If interest warrants, classes will be offered in the Doyle and Gilmawath schools as well as in Manistique, said Richard Bonifas, community school director.

City Briefs
Mrs. Alyce Walters and daughter, Denise, returned Monday from a week of vacation in Hawaii. They were joined by SFC James Walters, who is stationed in Vietnam.

Hospital
Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial were: Lillian Tetreault and James Cameron. Discharged were: Lillian Carlson, Kathleen VanZoren, Lester LaBumbar, Felix Juskevici, Robert Johnson and Shirley Trisch.

High Bids May Defer Building By Edison Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE — Bids on a proposed new building for Edison Sault Electric Co. were received from seven general contractors at the opening Wednesday and decision on construction was delayed.

The base bids were as follows: Champion, Inc., Iron Mountain $708,800, Kaynsen Construction, Sault $732,815, Strahan Construction, Riverdale $735,582, Omega Construction, Grand Rapids $741,563, Barnes Construction, Grand Rapids $761,480, Henderson Brothers, Cheboygan $780,000 and MacDonald Construction, Marquette $788,831.

President, Richard Y. Burnett, stated, "The bids are considerably in excess of our studied estimates and architects are analyzing the bids with the alternates and the results will be submitted to our directors for their decision."

Burnett said that it appears possible that it will be necessary to defer the building at present and the company will have to seek some other alternate.

Jury Receives Lemerand Case

A Circuit Court jury of 11 men and a woman began deliberations early this afternoon in the trial of two Escanaba men.

Hubert D. Lemerand, 23, Mounted Rte., and his brother, Rodney Lemerand, 26, of 1229 S. 30th St., are charged with resisting police officers and also with assaulting or committing a bodily injury which required medical attention to the officers.

The charges arose out of an incident in Escanaba on the night of Feb. 11.

Testimony in the case began Thursday morning before Judge Bernard H. Davidson. Witnesses included officers Gary LaPlant, Ronald Kaltenbach and Leonard Goddard of the Escanaba Police Department. The Lemerands and their wives also testified.

Judge Davidson, in his instructions to the jury, advised that either guilty or not guilty verdicts could be returned for each defendant on each count and also on a simple assault charge, which is embodied in the other charge.

The Lemerands were arrested in the 300 block of Stephenson Ave., about 1:10 a.m., Sunday, Feb. 11, for a traffic violation.

National Guard, State Police On 'Stand-By Alert'

The Michigan National Guard and the Michigan State Police have been placed on "stand-by alert" in connection with preparedness to meet possible rioting in downtown cities.

There was no mobilization as of this morning and no order has been received as yet to move the Guard or State Police officers to Detroit, Flint, and other metropolitan areas.

In meeting the need to maintain law and order in the riots at Detroit last year members of the National Guard including the unit centered at Gladstone and officers of the State Police at Gladstone and officers of the other Northern Michigan posts were called up for emergency duty.

So far today in the unrest triggered by the assassination of Rev. Martin Luther King, the Guard and State Police have been asked only to stand by.

Future Nurses Clubs Offer Varied Programs

Future Nurse Clubs were first organized in 1938 at Cooley High School in Detroit, by a group of students interested in a nursing career. The state organization of FNC was started in October, 1950 and was the first in the country.

Future Nurse Clubs are sponsored by the Michigan League for Nursing, the National Health Council and the Michigan Nurses Association and have as their purpose: 1. to bring young people together in high school who are interested in careers in nursing and allied health fields; 2. explore opportunities and requirements of these fields; 3. to grow as individuals by working together; and 4. to learn about community life in which young people soon will participate as informed citizens.

Locally there are organized clubs in the Escanaba Area High School, Holy Name and Gladstone Public Schools. The Gladstone FNC was the first club in the Upper Peninsula to receive a national charter in October, 1960.

Membership is open to boys and girls grades 10-12. Besides varied programs at the monthly meetings Junior and Senior members participate in a hospital volunteer service program at St. Francis Hospital.

The volunteers, following classroom instruction at the hospital, perform such duties as: feeding patients, caring for the clean laundry, arranging flowers, reading to patients, entertaining the children in the pediatric ward, running errands to laboratory, central supply, and X-ray, making beds, cleaning units when a patient is discharged, etc.

Rotate Work

The volunteers are rotated at regular intervals to the various services of the hospital so they can observe each phase of hospital care. Average volunteer time per student during a school year is 50-60 hours.

Besides hospital volunteer service all members assist at visits of the bloodmobile, help at school clinics, help with community health screening tests, provide help to indigent families at holiday time, and plan good health displays in the schools.

Receive Pin

At the end of the school year new members who have participated in three fourths of the club activities during the year are presented with the club pin. Social functions are also a part of the program, new member enrollment parties, semi-formal dances, banquets honoring the senior members, and a rally of all Upper Peninsula clubs is held in the fall.

Since the inception of the local clubs about nine years ago, approximately 65-70 per cent of the membership have entered health care fields as opposed to the 30-40 per cent national average.

Ranch A Good Combination

BY ANDY LANG

The surveys constantly being made to determine the wishes of home buyers are valuable to builders in making their plans for future houses.

As might be expected, the survey shows a divided preference by new-home purchasers for more space and greater comfort and convenience, especially among those who already have owned houses. But the tastes and needs of families differ so widely that the over-all conclusion is always the same: builders must provide a solid balance of basic styles at all price levels.

In the latest House of the Week, architect Rudolph A. Matern has taken the basic one-story sprawling ranch, mostly Colonial in exterior appearance, and provided an interior layout in line with what many families prefer. For instance, there no longer is a tendency to congregate in an oversized kitchen. Yet the necessity for an informal area has remained, a need filled in recent years by the family room. The family room here not only is adjacent to the kitchen, but can be opened to the living room via a folding partition, a handy arrangement for special occasions. Sliding glass doors leading to a rear terrace visually bring the outside in or permit easy accessibility to that same outside.

Open planning, still cherished by many, incorporated the living room and the dining room into a straight or L-shaped area some years ago. This was especially so in the ranch. But many persons wanted the dining room to regain its identity as a completely separate room. Here, in Design Z-34, an interesting separator of a large double fire place chimney block does an effective job of this.

GOOD COMBINATION: Clean lines of long, low ranch are combined in this three-bedroom house with Colonial features that have always exuded warmth and hospitality.

Small porch in front is for appearance; large one at rear provides privacy.

Z-34 STATISTICS

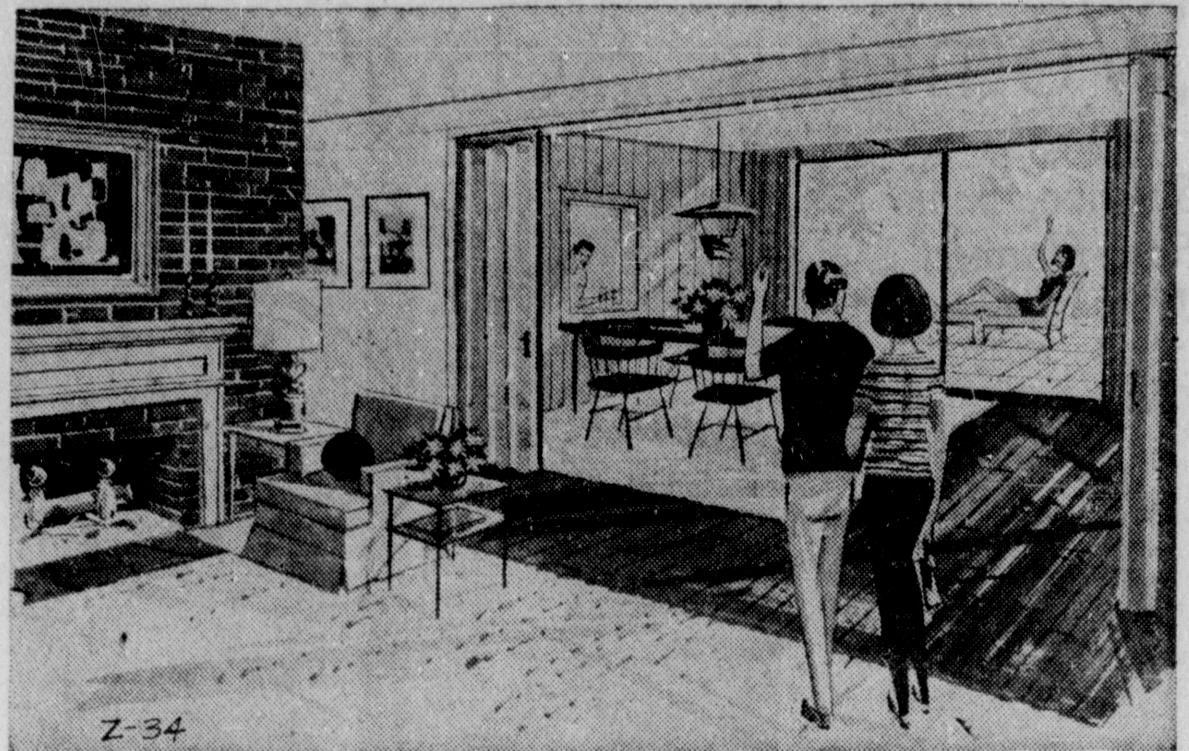

Design Z-34 has a living room, dining room, double fire-place, kitchen, family room, two foyers, three bedrooms and two baths, with plenty of closet space. The total living area is 1990 square feet. There is a large porch behind the two-car garage. If space does not permit a side entrance to the garage, the doors could be located at the front. Over-all dimensions are 86' by 39' 3".

The dining room, with its fireplace, wood storage nook, built-in china cabinet and bow window, has its own individuality and is not just an extension of another room.

The kitchen is delightfully placed, next to the family room, the dining room and a large covered porch, which is tucked in behind the two-car garage. The increasing desire for privacy caused a demand for the movement of the porch from the front of the house to the rear. This one, 24' long, is ideal for FLOOR PLANS: Double fireplace serves both the large living room and the dining room, at the same time keeping each room separate. Kitchen and family room also are separated, but window pass-through enables breakfast table to be conveniently serviced.

WHEN NEEDED: Folding partition separates fireplaced living room from family room, but can be opened as shown when desired. Glass doors in family room lead to rear terrace.

North Central Elects Officers

WAUSAU, Wis. — Stockholders of North Central Airlines at their annual meeting re-elected all members of the company's board of directors.

The airline attained record revenues of $42,850,477 up $3,237,806 over 1966. Earnings in 1967 reached a new high of $1,520,124, including gains from the sale of flight equipment of $924,316.

Passenger traffic increased 14 per cent to a record 2,347,371 passengers. Substantial gains in cargo were also achieved.

According to Carr, much of the traffic increase is attributed to the addition of the three 100-passenger DC-9 fan jets and eight Convair 580 prop-jets introduced in 1967 which provided greater carrying capacity and speed.

Five DC-9's are now in operation. Two additional jets will be in service on April 28 and three more by July. Five DC-9's are on option. North Central will have an all jet-powered fleet late in 1968.

Directors re-elected are Carr, chairman of the board and president; Bernard Sweet, executive vice president; John P. Dow, vice president and secretary; L. J. Keely, vice president-maintenance and engineering; D. F. May, vice president and treasurer; David E. Moran, vice president-traffic and sales; T. M. Needham, vice president - ground; operations; Arthur E. Schwandt, vice president-industrial relations; G. F. Wallis, vice president-flight operations.

When a closet becomes a flameless electric heating-and-cooling center, you've graduated to modern comfort

Make a clean break with the past. Make your home modern—old home or new—with flameless electric heating-and-cooling. It needs so little space you can tuck a central heating-and-cooling unit inside an ordinary closet. In fact, you'll gain space all around the house... perhaps even an entire room. Because a flameless system requires no big furnace or bulky radiators.

You'll enjoy a gentle climate that will envelop you with comfort all year round. And your air will be so clean you'll see the difference everywhere. Modernizing an old home? That can be done neatly in just a few days... summer or winter.

There are many heating and cooling systems from which to choose. See your electrical contractor or call us... and graduate... to the joy of Total Electric Living.

Maple Syrup's Boiling Again

By JEAN WORTH

The steam plumes on the boiling shanties in hills of Gourley signal maple syrup time.

The sap is bubbling in the big evaporators and there are bright pails hanging in the maple forests and the tank wagons run back and forth all day long.

The visitor has choice of many sugar bushes in the mid-Upper Peninsula. Bernard Schultz, the Escanaba Daily Press photographer and I visited the sugar house of Tony Jasper this week.

It is in Gourley near Jam Dam and Tony is the third generation of Jaspers to work the family sugarbush on a farm which his grandfather, Henry Jasper cleared in 1880. His father Henry Jasper, still lives on the 320-acre farm, which has 3,000 sugar maple trees tapped this year.

Pay By Content

About an equal number of trees in other woods nearby are tapped to supply sap for the Jasper maple syrup mill. It is hauled in milk cans and on trailers with 275-gallon covered tanks.

Jasper pays on a basis of specific gravity readings on sap with a hydrometer, indicating its sugar content. With a reading of one the payment is 2 cents a gallon. For every half point additional there's an extra cent. Readings have gone up to a count of 10, but that's very unusual, the usual good reading is 3 or 4.

The five suppliers of sap are all within a three mile radius of the mill and one of them with 600 trees tapped recently was paid $75.05 for one day's production of sap. Payments of more than $100 a day have been made to a supplier with 900 trees tapped, but that's exceptional, says Jasper and "most of the men are well satisfied if they get $50 a day from their trees."

8,000 Gallons

The plant has storage capacity for 8,000 gallons of sap and it is usually filled in the late afternoon and the mill operates all night and has it all processed about 5 a. m., the next morning. The evaporation is at the rate of 800 gallons of sap an hour, with the boiling process starting in a big new oil-fired evaporator, from which it goes to a wood fired evaporator and then is drawn off to be finished in a gas-fired evaporator. It settles in large tanks in a storage house to which it is pumped and is bottled for wholesale or retail sale.

Jasper set a record of 250 gallons of syrup production one day last week. He made 1,450 gallons in 1967, made 800 gallons in his first week of production this year starting about March 15 and hopes to make 2,000 gallons in this year's run, ending about April 15, "because we have an awfully good start. We might break our record because we've got an awfully good test on our sap."

Lacks Sleep

He says that he should average about $2 income from each of the trees tapped on his home sugarbush and that the average or other suppliers will probably be about 75 cents a tree,

"year in and year out." He was only tapping 500 trees five years ago.

Syrup sells for $7 a gallon to the retail trade and $6.50 to the wholesale trade. Wisconsin producers are getting $8 a gallon or $2 a quart.

Jasper's sap is being collected in pails or plastic bags this year.

He has tried plastic tubing, but with diminishing results. "The squirrels found it and ate holes in it," he said. He uses pellets in tap holes to reduce bacteria, says it makes as much as 40 per cent difference in sap production.

Trust Busting Ignore Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday, "Antitrust today is sick and nobody seems greatly concerned."

"Concentrated industries remain concentrated," he said. "Conglomerate mergers proliferate at record speed, enforcement remains low key and over-all concentration continues to grow."

Hart, chairman of the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee, said "In one basic industry after another prices have climbed upward regardless of supply and demand considerations."

"But," he asked in a prepared address to the antitrust section of the American Bar Association, "who cries out that to fight inflation we must pursue a vigorous antitrust policy?"

"Certainly not the businessman or the Council of Economic Advisers," he said.

it really figures...

When you're budgeting heating and air conditioning for your home, budget the economical way with an electric heat pump

An electric heat pump does two jobs with one piece of equipment. The electric heat pump keeps your home comfortably warm in winter. Then when summer comes, it simply reverses itself and keeps your home refreshingly cool.

There's no need for two sets of equipment to comfort-condition your home when you have an electric heat pump!

Remember, for better living, you can't beat electric living!

State Treasury Has Little Cash

LANSING (AP)—Many people have the idea the state treasury vault is bulging with cash since the state collects millions in taxes daily and the last Michigan budget topped the $1 billion mark.

Actually, there is seldom as much as $50,000 cash in the state treasury. And this is kept on hand mostly to cash pay checks for state employees.

But the state still is taking no chances.

"We don't know of anyone ever attempting to rob the treasury in the history of the state," said Treasurer Allison Green. "But our new vault was built for maximum security."

One main reason for this, Green explained, is that the better the security, the lower the charge for insurance.

In New Building
The last valuables were moved this week from the old treasury office in the State Capitol to the new treasury building behind the Capitol.

Most of the state's assets are in the form of securities, checks and bonds.

The move was a "hush hush" operation. Three State Police men stood by as treasury workers loaded the contents of the vault into a plain van for the short run just across the street.

Two troopers carrying shotguns were supervised by a sergeant wearing his sidearm.

Cash In Bank
The cash, meanwhile, had been carried over in an inconspicuous briefcase to a nearby bank. It will be kept there until security specialists are through working on the new state vault.

The new vault on the first floor of the treasury building measures 26 feet by 26 feet—about same as a good-sized living room.

The vault is lined with inch-thick steel. An interior alarm system is turned on after the working day ends and the vault door is closed by a time clock.

Any vibration or loud noise will set off the alarm, connected to both Lansing and State Police Headquarters.

Alarm System
The outside cashiers' cage, topped by a protective barrier of iron spikes, has its own alarm system. Two hidden buzzers can be pressed to alert police if the vault attendants or cashiers spot something suspicious.

The door operates on a buzzer system. There also is a direct telephone line to State Police.

The vault has air conditioning—in case an employee is accidentally trapped inside. There was no such precaution in the former vault. Treasury officials worried about it and finally had workmen bore an air tube through the vault wall.

The treasury will be the first state department to become fully operational in the complex of new buildings behind the State Capitol.

State's Road Cleanup Begins

LANSING (AP) — Spring clean up, paint and pick up work has been started on the state's road system, reports the State Highway Department.

Among the chores are pavement sweeping and patching, washing roadside signs, removing snow fences and repainting pavement markings.

Snowplow damage to road edges will be repaired, eroded drainage ditches will be redug, grass will be planted and fertilized and the tons of bottles, trash and other waste accumulated during the winter will be removed from highway edges.

Among items to be used for the annual spring cleaning are 56,000 pounds of grass seed, 196 tons of fertilizer, 4,565 gallons of weed spray and brush killer, 9,000 pounds of cattail killer, 622,700 gallons of asphalt emulsion and 6,255 tons of cold patch material for road repairs, 300,000 gallons of paint for pavement marking, 4,425 tons of liquid chloride for roadside dust control and 1.5 million pounds of glass beads to improve the reflective quality of pavement markings.

Foreign Travel Tax Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate Thursday a bill to tax airplane tickets to foreign countries and reduce the duty free amount of goods that may be brought to this country by returning tourists.

The bill originally was designed to cut down the international balance of payments deficit but action on a major proposal to accomplish that was deferred by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The travel tax approved would be 5 per cent of the price of an airline ticket.

The present duty-free exemption of $100 on goods brought back by tourists would be cut to $10 until October 15, 1969, when it would rise to $50.

The existing allowance of $10 for gifts mailed from abroad to this country would be cut to $1 and a flat rate of 10 per cent of retail value would be imposed

Left out of the bill was an administration proposal to levy a tax up to 30 per cent on spending by U.S. travelers abroad over a stated minimum.

Flyers Only Home Loser In Stanley Cup Playoffs

By The Associated Press
The Philadelphia Spectrum has its roof back in place but Keith Allen, coach of the National Hockey League Flyers, is ready to flip his lid.

Philadelphia's West Division champs managed just 14 shots and bowed 1-0 to St. Louis Thursday night as the National Hockey League playoffs got under way.

The loss cost Philadelphia its home ice advantage and the Flyers were the only home team to bow in opening round Stanley Cup games. Elsewhere, New York dropped Chicago 3-1, Montreal nipped Boston 2-1 and Los Angeles edged Minnesota 2-1.

Glenn Hall, St. Louis' veteran goalie, had an easy time with the Flyers but the Blues didn't get the winning goal until the final six minutes when Jim Roberts deflected a shot past Bernie Parent.

The game marked the return home of the Flyers, who were forced to play 21 of their final 24 regular season games on the road when the Spectrum's roof was damaged by high winds.

"It was a big game," said Allen, whose team now must win at least one game on the road to beat the Blues in the best-of-7 series. "He (Hall) didn't have much work. We didn't have many tough shots."

Scotty Bowman, coach of the Blues, said simply, "I just hope we win the last game."

Hall's old teammates, the Chicago Black Hawks, had a tougher time against New York. The fired-up Rangers unloaded 44 shots at Denis DeJordy and fore-checked fiercely in front of Ed Giacomin.

"Our team was ready," smiled Emile Francis, manager-coach of the Rangers, who finished second in the NHL's East Division. New York got its goals from Orland Kurtenbach, Harry Howell and Rod Gilbert.

Gilbert's third-period goal was his first this year against the Black Hawks. He had 29 regular season goals but none in his last 12 games.

Veteran Claude Provost scored Montreal's decisive goal against Boston with less than five minutes to play. Checked heavily by defenseman Dallas Smith, Provost fell to the ice, but deflected Ted Harris' shot behind Bruins' goalie Gerry Cheevers for the winner.

"I got my stick on the puck just in time," said Provost. "I've missed those kind of shots hundreds of times, but tonight I was lucky."

Henri Richard and Boston's Ken Hodge had traded earlier goals.

Los Angeles built a 2-0 lead over Minnesota and staved off the North Stars behind the strong goaltending of veteran Terry Sawchuk, participating in his 96th playoff game.

Ed Joyal put the Kings ahead late in the second period on a power play goal and defenseman Bill White's screened shot at 3:13 of the third stanza made it 2-0. Dave Balon produced Minnesota's lone goal 41 seconds later.

Heyman Leads Pipers Past Muskies In ABA

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — His teammates came up with the gas — and Art Heyman did the driving.

The bouncy Heyman drove time and again into the husky Minnesota Muskie defenses Thursday night, putting in 34 points as the Pittsburgh Pipers out-scraped the Muskies 125-117.

It was the first game in a best-of-7 series for the American Basketball Association's Eastern title.

The 6-foot-5 Heyman went to work in the third period at the same time the Pipers went on a running rampage, outscoring the Muskies 42-17 in the period.

Heyman, former Duke All-American, led the third-period assault with 12 points, and netted 11 more in the fourth period.

Charlie Williams, also a driver, almost kept pace with Heyman in the rally, hitting 11 points and finishing with 23. Tom Washington got 10 of his 12 points in the third period.

Connie Hawkins, the Pipers' ace and Most Valuable Player in the ABA, managed to slip in 26 points.

Minnesota was paced by Mel Daniels, who hit 27 points, and Erv Ininger, who canned 26.

The second game in the series will be played Saturday night at Pittsburgh.

The divisional final playoffs start tonight in the National Basketball Association. Boston is at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

The final playoff in the Western Division of the ABA also opens tonight with Dallas at New Orleans.

Each of the series is best-of-7 games.

Tigers Acquire Shortstop To Complete Deal

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers said Thursday they have obtained Fred Moulder, a 24-year-old shortstop, to complete a deal in which veteran pitcher Hank Aguirre was sent to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Moulder, currently on the Spokane, Wash., roster, was signed by the Dodgers in 1956 from the University of Kansas. He batted .294 in 1966 and .252 in 1967 with minor league teams.

The Tigers said he was being assigned to Rocky Mount, the Detroit farm club in the Class A Carolinas league.

Aguirre was sold to the Dodgers Monday for an undisclosed amount of cash and the player to be named later.

Al Kaline only needs two home runs this season to tie Hank Greenberg for the lead in most career home runs for a Detroit Tiger.

Gladstone Lions Honor Wakefield Coach Daniels

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Lions Club sponsored a banquet last evening honoring the members of the Gladstone High School varsity and junior varsity teams and Coach of the Year Jim Daniels of Wakefield High School.

Jim Pinar, an instructor at Gladstone High School, acted as toastmaster for the event. He introduced past coaches of the year who were present at the banquet and freshman coach Jim Barrett and Roger Finlan, coach of the undefeated seventh grade team.

Mike Utt, sports editor of the Escanaba Daily Press presented the members of his Gladstone varsity squad and discussed the 67-68 season. Gladstone lost the Great Lakes Conference title by a total of five points and compiled a season record of 9-9 which was marred by a number of close defeats.

Guest speaker for the evening was Jack Brighton, head basketball coach at Lake Superior State College, who talked of winning and why it is important.

Brighton stated, "Competition helps to develop the will to win and without the desire to win, competitive athletics are nothing more than a form of exercise."

Brighton went on further to say that, "the great champion is made by conquering his fear of making a mistake. The great competitor has confidence in himself and his ability."

Brighton reminded the athletes in attendance that they represent more than themselves. They have responsibility to their parents, school and community and that there is always someone younger that takes the athlete as an idol who wants to fashion himself after his idol.

Daniels stated that he has always been able to field a team that has been dedicated to the game. He said that the Wakefield team of 1968 didn't have a lot of natural talent, but had

Little League Signup Begins

Registration for the 1968 Little League Season for all boys residing in the City of Escanaba will begin Monday at Club 314. Boys interested in signing up must be nine but not thirteen years old before the last day of August 1968. Birth certificates are necessary to verify ages.

Pending weather conditions, tryouts are expected to begin in about a week. The Escanaba minor league program will get underway immediately following the Escanaba Jaycee Little League organizational wrap up.

Beginning its 18th season, oldest in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, the local program made an expansion move this year with the signing up of the Escanaba Exchange Club. Joining Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, VFW, the Bankers, the Credit Unions, and the Eagles, the Escanaba Jaycee Little League will operate as an eight team loop this year with the intention of expanding to two leagues as soon as participants and facilities are available.

Elsewhere in the Peninsula, Little League expansion is also evident with new leagues under consideration in Menominee, Munising and Gwinne. Michigan District No. 10 which engulfs the entire Upper Peninsula is presently operating with 15 leagues.

Brown Takes Northern Job

MARQUETTE — Glenn Brown, assistant coach at Northern Michigan University for the past two years, has been appointed head basketball coach, effective May 1.

Brown succeeds Stan Albeck, who resigned after 11 years at Northern to become the head coach at the University of Denver.

The appointment was announced by Northern's interim president, Ogden Johnson, on the recommendation of athletic director, Rico Zenti.

"It was a pleasure to recommend Glenn Brown as Northern's next coach of varsity basketball," said Zenti. "He has earned the respect of the athletes, the faculty and the community. I am confident that Glenn will make a positive contribution to the fine tradition established by varsity athletics at Northern Michigan University."

Brown, 39, is a native of Joplin, Mo., and obtained both his bachelor's and master's degrees at Bradley University, where he was a two-year basketball letterman.

Prior to becoming assistant basketball coach at Northern two years ago, he had 11 years experience as a varsity coach, including positions at Fort Ord, Calif., Farmington, Ill., Danville, Ill., and New Castle, Ind. His lifetime record as a head coach is 216-104.

While in the high school coaching ranks in the Illinois-Indiana area, Brown sent several of his prep stars to Northern, including Jerry Wright, Dave Cade, Phil Griffith and current Wildcats Dave Novack.

Glenn Brown

and Mike Boyd. Wright went on to earn All-America honors at NMU and Cade was recently appointed to the head coaching position at Michigan Tech.

Brown is the author of "The Secrets of the Zone Press," which is in use as a college text and is also designed for reading by the average basketball fan.

He and his wife, Dee, are the parents of two children, Lyndee, 11, and Bobby, eight.

Cage Selectors Have Tough Job

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The 45-man U.S. Olympics Basketball Selection committee has its work cut out: only five of the 80 candidates who played Thursday failed to score.

Dead-eye shooting and the dunk were big successes of the first round. Attendance and the four NCAA teams were busts.

"Some of these boys are fantastic shooters," said Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, who will coach the U.S. team in the Olympic Games this fall in Mexico City.

"We might have better shooters than 1964. They're as quick, move as well as those in the 1964 trials. They don't have the inside strength as in 1964."

The Junior College All-Stars scored the biggest victory of the four games, watched by only 1,600 persons, by beating the NCAA Blue team 88-70. The Blue team's All-American Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, the nation's scoring leader this season, was held to six points and 7-foot Tom Boerwinkle of Tennessee, tallest man in the tournament, to eight.

A well-trimmed Armed Forces team trimmed the NCAA Red team 81-78, the NAIA All-Stars beat the NCAA White team 84-77 and the AAU stopped the NCAA College Division 74-58.

Each team plays one game today and one Saturday with the 12-man Olympic team and six alternates to be announced Sunday.

The Junior College All-Stars play the NAIA at 9:30 p.m., EST, and the AAU battles the armed forces at 11 p.m. The NCAA Reds and Whites clash at 4 p.m. with the College Division and Blues at 5:30 p.m.

Cougar Goalie Out Of Action

DETROIT (AP) — There is a 90 per cent chance that goalkeeper Jim Stander of the Detroit Cougars will be out of action from four to six weeks, a spokesman for Detroit's entry in the North American Soccer League said Thursday. Stander was injured last Saturday at Atlanta when he collided with one of the Atlanta Chiefs in the Cougars' goalmouth during Detroit's 2-1 loss.

Athletics Pound Cards As Monday Snaps Slump

By The Associated Press
Oakland's Rick Monday broke out of a slump at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, but Red Schoendienst couldn't have cared less. He's too busy wondering about his relief pitching this year.

Monday ended his string of 20 hitless trips to the plate with two singles and a double as the Athletics pounded out a 12-2 victory over the defending National League champion Cardinals.

Five of the Oakland runs came off Mike Torrez in the fourth inning—he gave up eight altogether—and four more were wrested from Hal Gilson in the seventh.

Manager Schoendienst is hoping that both Torrez and Gilson can take up some slack in the Cardinal bullpen this year especially since Jack Lamabe, who provided help down the stretch last year, was cut Thursday.

In other exhibition games Thursday, the New York Mets shut out San Francisco 6-0, Los Angeles downed Cleveland 8-3, the Chicago Cubs crushed the Chicago White Sox 11-6, Philadelphia blanked Boston 5-0, the New York Yankees beat Washington 8-2 and Minnesota beat Houston 3-1.

Oakland tagged St. Louis pitching for 14 hits, drew nine walks and took advantage of four errors. Jim Hunter held the Cards to four hits for six innings.

Jerry Kosman and Danny Frisella stopped the Giants on four hits and Ken Boswell had a two-run homer for the Mets. Tom Haller's second homer in as many days highlighted the Dodgers' victory. Claude Osteen pitched seven innings, giving up nine hits.

The Cubs bombed Gary Peters for seven runs in the first inning in which 11 men batted. Ron Santo and Al Spangler had homers for the Cubs and Duane Josephson had one for the White Sox.

Larry Jackson, Gary Wagner and Dick Hall blanked the Red Sox while Tony Taylor honored and Johnny Callison had two important singles for the Phillies.

The Yanks scored three unearned runs in the first inning while getting six walks off Barry Moore. Frank Howard hit a 480-foot homer for the Senators, the longest ever hit at the Fort Lauderdale Stadium.

Dean Chance and Ron Perranoski combined to stop Houston on four hits, Chance pitching until the eighth inning.

DESPITE THE SPRING SNOWS which blew into the area Thursday, Gladstone's Mayor Raymond Norton turned the first shovel of earth for Gladstone's new low-rent housing project in ground breaking ceremonies at the site south of Dakota Ave., along the east side of 4th St. Joining the ceremonies were, from left, Arne Anderson, city commissioner; Elmer Caron; Ellis Movelson, representing the Gladstone Lions Club; Thomas Elegeert Jr.; Elroy Nero, president of

Nero Brothers Construction Co., Green Bay, Wis.; Jack Tackman; City Manager H. J. Henrikson; Jeff Nichols, Nichols & Barone Architects, Inc., Green Bay; Michael LaPine; Norton and Louis Barone, also of the architectural firm. Ground Broken For Housing Project

The City of Gladstone climaxed over two years of preliminary planning and work Thursday by breaking ground for a new 50-unit low rent housing project for elderly citizens of Delta County.

Mayor Raymond Norton and Michael LaPine, chairman of the Housing Commission, each turned spades of earth signaling start of construction on the $596,000 project.

City Manager H. J. Henrikson said Nero Brothers Construction Co., Green Bay, is shooting for a Sept. 30 completion of the three-story building, which will provide low-rent housing for senior citizens of the entire county.

Henrikson said final confirmation on award of the contract to Nero Brothers was received this morning from the federal Housing and Urban Development office in Chicago. Verbal confirmation of the contract award was received earlier this week.

Nero Brothers was the low bidder in the amount of $596,800 when bids on the project were opened two weeks ago.

Elroy Nero, president of the construction firm, informed the city that staking out of the site prior to start of digging for the building's foundation probably would begin Monday.

Applications for apartments in the new center already are being accepted by Henrikson, who is executive director of the project.

The firm of Nichols & Barone, Inc., designed the building. When construction is completed, the Housing Commission will sell bonds on the public market. Obligations of the bonds are guaranteed by the federal government in the form of an annual contribution contract.

All operating expenses, maintenance, administrative and other costs will be paid from rent collected. If surplus funds are accumulated in management of the building, yearly contributions from the Housing Commission will be made to the government to assist in retiring the bonds.

The three-story building will include 48 one-bedroom units and two of two bedrooms.

Snow Contributes To Three Mishaps On Area Highways

Snow and freezing rain which fell in the Delta County area contributed to the cause of three minor traffic accidents investigated by State Police Thursday.

Officers said Kenneth Fedraw, 21, of Trux Field, Madison, Wis., was ticketed for driving left of center after his car slid into a trailer wheel on a semi-trailer truck driven by Edward Walraven, 46, of Bay City, at the U. S. 2 and 41 intersection at Rapid River.

Troopers said Fedraw was making a left turn when the accident happened about 3:30 p. m. He was not injured.

About 3:45 p. m., a car driven by Denis Hebert, 16, Rte. 3, Rapid River, struck the rear of a trailer being pulled by a car driven by William Barton, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, on U. S. 2 in Ensign Township. Officers said Hebert was unable to stop when Barton slowed down.

Rose Pilon, Wells, escaped injury when her car left U. S. 2 and 41 near Country Rd. C-45 in Wells Township. Troopers said she lost control and ran into a pole.

Orville Peterson, Rte. 2, Rapid River, was issued a traffic summons Thursday for driving left of center.

Detroit Group Boosts Summer Recreation Aids

DETROIT (AP) — The New Detroit Committee Thursday became a permanent, rather than a temporary organization, and also announced plans for a "new Detroit summer."

The project, details of which are to be revealed in about two weeks, will be aimed at increasing recreation activities for young people in Detroit, particularly in the Inner City areas heavily populated by Negroes.

The committee was formed last summer in the wake of the July 23-30 riot in hopes of coming up with programs to head off a recurrence of the trouble, which claimed 43 lives.

Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the committee, remarked to newsmen at the same time about the pitfalls of trying to plan programs involving federal money.

Federal funds, he said, cannot be counted on by local communities, "such as Detroit."

Travel Increases

LANSING (AP)—On the basis of the first two months, Michigan motorists appear headed for another record travel year, reports the State Highway Department. Travel within the state was up 9.4 per cent over last year in January and increased 12 per cent in February over the same month a year ago. The increase was mainly attributed to a winter sports boom.
